

UNIVERSITY LIBRARIES & STUDENT INTERSECTIONS

The library collaborates with teaching faculty throughout the year to ensure that students understand library services and resources. This chart outlines when librarians meet with multiple course sections to teach students about academic research practices.

	FIRST YEAR	SECOND YEAR	THIRD YEAR	FOURTH YEAR
Welcome Weekend Event [new student orientation]. Introduction to the library & services.	REQUIRED
CMM100 online tutorial. Quality sources for research-based performance assignments.	REQUIRED
BIO152L online tutorial. Academic sources for biology lab paper [course for majors].	REQUIRED
ENG100 online tutorial. Introduction to the concept of authority in research.	REQUIRED
ENG114 library session. Introduction to academic research.	REQUIRED
ENG198 library session. Introduction to academic research.	REQUIRED
ASI120 library session. Introduction to academic research.	REQUIRED
ENG200 library session. Introduction to academic research.		REQUIRED
BIO299 library session. How to conduct discipline-specific research [course for majors].		REQUIRED
SSC200 Locating peer reviewed primary source articles in the social sciences.		OPTIONAL
Berry Summer Thesis Institute cohort research consultations.		REQUIRED
Honors thesis research consultations.			REQUIRED

University of Dayton

University Libraries