

#UDaytonWrites

Join us for the first annual #UDaytonWrites
In celebration of the 10th Anniversary of
NCTE National Day on Writing

Date: Friday, October 19th

Location: Humanities Plaza

Time: 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Celebrate, Explore, and Write

Students, faculty, and members of the UD community are invited to participate in this Happening on the plaza.

- Come enjoy live music! Popular local bands will play while you participate in writing activities.
- Try your hand at writing: a zine, a 6-8 word novel, a flash fiction story, a poem.
- Meet the editors of Flyer News and Orpheus, make a friend with the tutors at the Write Place, and much more.
- Share stories about why you write.

Open Mic

- Watch other people write and then read what they have written.
- Read your own fiction or creative non-fiction
- Read your own poetry, someone else's poetry, haiku, your favorite lyrics, a letter home to grandma, a restaurant menu! Writing and reading is for everybody!
- Be bold, take the challenge. Tell the world why you write and share it with all of UD. Bring your friends and have a blast!

Please contact Dr. Adam Williams, awilliams9@udayton.edu for information about the Open Mic

Questions?

- Contact Dr. Margaret M. Strain, English Department, mstrain1@udayton.edu