

Spanish Language Immersion Segovia, Spain

June 20 – July 19, 2016

Segovia, a Castilian city situated 55 miles north of Madrid, possesses a millennial history embellished with magnificent monuments. The Roman Aqueduct (2,000 years old, nearly 100 feet tall and almost a half-mile long) dominates the city with its majestic presence and successful synthesis of Roman art and technology. The superb Alcázar, whose history goes back to the eleventh century, was a residence of kings and queens for centuries. The so-named Lady of the Spanish Cathedrals, constructed in the middle of the sixteenth century, is one of the finest Gothic monuments in Spain. Medieval art and culture can be traced through countless Romanesque churches, manorial towers, convents, monasteries, walls that surround and protect the city, and palaces. The combination of centuries of history and art offer an attractive contrast to the modern urbanism of this city of 60,000. Daily contact with native speakers, all courses taught in Spanish and living accommodations with Spanish host families provide students with a total language and cultural immersion experience.

Courses

SPN 370 Spanish Grammar through Literary

Texts: Legends of Segovia (3 credits)

SPN 370 Culture, Art, Education and Business (3 credits)

Students are encouraged to work with their Dean's office and academic advisor to ensure how courses taken will count toward their major/minor, etc.

Site Coordinator

Dr. Francisco Peñas-Bermejo, Department of Global Languages and Cultures

Apply

Apply online at udayton.edu/edabroad. The application

deadline for summer 2016

programs is February 1, 2016.