

Asymptotically Stable Solutions of a System of Coupled Nonlinear Differential Equations

Norah Alnami

University of Dayton

Abstract: The existence of asymptotically stable solutions of a system of coupled nonlinear differential equations has been studied in this paper. The fixed point theorem of Schauder has been employed as the primary mathematical tool of analysis.