

SURFING FOR CHANGE

KYLE THIERMANN

"Surfing for Change: Today's youth and the Green Movement"

Kyle Thiermann is a 21 year old pro surfer who has created some serious waves around the world. He is the creator and host of the hit youtube series, Surfing For Change.

Combining surfing great waves with making a series of short films about current issues, Thiermann focuses on the power you have to create a better world through everyday decisions.

Kyle graduated from Gaia University with a BA in Green Business. He uses the support from his sponsors, including Patagonia, Sector 9 and Clif Bar to generate publicity that encourages people to take action to transform their communities, and the world.
