

The UD Theatre Program announces

AUDITIONS

(ir)reconcilable: faith & reason

Directed by Michelle Hayford, Director of the Theatre Program

A multimedia original play about how we create meaning and connection to something greater than ourselves

- ◆ Seize the opportunity to create a multimedia production that incorporates visual art & kinetic forms, puppets, dance, music, and text based on interview narratives!
- ◆ A diverse cast representing various arts and non-arts disciplines, as well as students, graduate students, faculty and staff is desired.
- ◆ All are welcome to audition!

Seeking ACTORS, MUSICIANS, SINGERS, COMPOSERS, ARTISTS and those interested in exploring "faith & reason" to collaborate and devise a new play. The Creative Team includes David Sievers, Artist-In-Residence in the Music Department, Richard Mosley, Artistic Director of UD Dance Ensemble, and Tristan Cupp, Artistic Director of The Zoot Theatre Company

- ◆ Come prepared to move, wearing appropriate clothing.
- ◆ Auditions will be in Fitz Hall, Black Box Theatre, room 155 and Dance Studio, room 159.

October 30, 6pm-7:30pm, Black Box Theatre and Dance Studio

6-6:30pm: Music auditions. Singers come prepared to sing with or without accompaniment (accompanist preferred, or Dr. Sievers can accompany), musicians come prepared to play a short piece on your instrument, composers come prepared to share your original music.

6:30-7pm: Dance auditions. Come prepared to move. All skill levels welcome to audition (Dance Studio, Room 159)

7-7:30pm: Ensemble auditions. All are required to audition at one Ensemble audition. Come prepared to have fun and play games--We're looking for team players who can take risks and have a good time with others. No monologue required. Black Box Theatre, room 155
