Finding Your Books

Textbook Pricing
- We are as frustrated as anyone by the rising costs of course materials. Unfortunately, most of these increases come from the publisher pricing and are beyond the school’s control.
- We still do everything we can to keep book prices to a minimum. We offer used and rental books at every opportunity possible so that you have the most cost-effective options available.
- Because we’re constrained by the prices publishers charge us, we know our prices won’t always be the lowest available. There are advantages to the UD Bookstore that make up for this though!

Advantages of the UD Bookstore
- You can use your textbook scholarship with us! ($500 per semester for eight semesters to use JUST on textbooks!)
- There is 100% certainty that you are getting the correct titles and editions required for your courses.
- We have a free range floor where you are able to pick your own copy of books. This is helpful when selecting used books, as some may have more underlining or highlighting than others.

Our Return Policy
- Return dates for textbooks are posted all around our store and printed at the bottom of every receipt. These dates include an overall return date deadline for the semester as well as a drop return date, if you choose to drop or add a class after the semester begins.
- We are happy to take returns when you drop a class, but make sure you keep your receipt as we’ll need it to process the return. Any shrink-wrapped books must be unopened and any access codes must be unused to process a return.
- We aren’t a library — if you are waiting for a book to come in the mail, don’t buy a copy from the store to use for a week. You HAVE to drop the class to return the book. We have this rule because...
- Some students shop elsewhere, so we don’t buy a copy for everyone enrolled in a class. If you buy a copy to use it temporarily, there will be students who aren’t able to get the book when they need it.
- By applying the return policy uniformly, we are able to keep down our operating costs. By keeping our costs down, this policy helps hold down the price of books for everyone.

Our Rental Policy
- Highlight, mark, treat the book like it’s yours... just drop it off at the end of the semester.
- Avoid water damage, spine damage, torn covers and missing pages.
- If you do not return the book, you’ll be charged the difference between the rental and purchase prices. The book will then be yours to keep or sell.
- You’ll receive email reminders to return your book(s) closer to the end of the semester.

Used Books
- Used books cost about 25% less than their new counterparts.
- Reusing books reduces the environmental impact, both in paper and in shipping.
- Bonus — The important bits of the book are sometimes already pointed out for you.
- Look for the yellow used sticker on a book’s spine to see if used copies are available.

Rental Books
- Rentals can be as much as 50-60% less than the new book purchase price.
- Renting is buying temporary access to a book that is to be returned at the end of the semester.
- If you decide that you want to buy your rental for later use, you may do so at any time in the semester! All you have to do is pay the difference between the rental and purchase price of the book.
- If a book is able to be rented, there will be a rental price listed below the purchase price on the shelf tag.
- You must have a valid credit card to provide at the time of purchase to use as collateral. You can still use your scholarship to pay for the rental and no money will be charged to the card unless the book is not returned to us at the end of the semester.

Buyback
- If your book will be used by other classes on campus, in the upcoming semester, you could get up to 50% of the new book price back by selling it at buyback (even if you bought it used!)!
- Please remember to bring your ID for us to swipe when you sell back your books. This will help us verify if you have any rental books that need to be returned.
- The buyback price for every book is determined by campus and nationwide demand. The amount we pay you can vary throughout the buyback period.
- Buyback begins the Thursday before finals week at the end of each semester in the UD Bookstore in Marianist Hall where we pay students in cash.
