

CURRICULUM VITAE
February 2016
Victor M. Forlani, SM, DBA

Current Position: Lecturer, Management/Marketing Department
(Since 8/95) School of Business Administration
University of Dayton
Marianist in Residence School of Business Administration
(Since 4/09) University of Dayton
Founding Director, Center for the Integration of Faith and Work
School of Business Administration
(Since 11/09) University of Dayton

Vocational Status: Single, Member of Marianist Religious Order, Catholic Church

Current and Recent Activities:

- Teach graduate courses in the MBA Program:
 - Principled Organizations: Integrating Faith, Ethics and Work
- Coordinate programs for undergraduate in Business as a Profession and applied business ethics

Chair of Catholic / Marianist Identity Committee & its Predecessors 2000 - Present
Member of the Honorary Degree Committee, University of Dayton 2008 – Present Business School Coordinator of Self Study for Community Engagement Classification by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching 2013 – 2014
Participant Electronic Learning Fellows Program 2014 -
Moderator Business Ethics Debate Team 2016 -
Moderator of Flyer Consultants > Student consulting group 2012 - 2014
Member of UD Task Force on Mission and Identity 2010 - 2012
Member of the Board, Saint Mary's University, San Antonio, Texas 2003 - 2009
Book Read Group on University Community Outreach Fall 2016
Member, Board of Trustees, Bergamo Center for Life Long Living 2014 –
Participant, Dayton Mission Leaders Network 2014

Presentation at Dayton Peace on Relationship of Greenleaf's work and Religious Banners July 13 2015
Presentation at Dayton Jewish Federation on Movie "The Jewish Cardinal" April 21, 2015
Workshop Presenter in concert with UD Human Resources Division on applications of Greenleaf's work in organizational life February 25, April 23, 2016

Education

Doctor of Business Administration, Boston University, 1995

Master in Business Administration
University of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, 1989

M.S. in Education (Secondary School Administration)
Syracuse University, New York, 1973

B.S. in Business Administration (General Management)
University of Dayton, Ohio, 1965

B.S. in Education University of Dayton, Ohio, 1965

Professional Experience

Dates: 1989 to 1990
 Place: University of Dayton
 Position: Assistant to VP, University Advancement

Dates: 1980 to 1988
 Place: Bergamo Center, Dayton, Ohio Position: President
 Dates: 1975 to 1980

Place: Msgr. Hackett Catholic Central High School
 Kalamazoo, Michigan Position: Principal

Dates: 1970 to 1975
 Place: Cathedral Latin School, Cleveland, Ohio
 Position: Director of Financial Development

Dates: 1965 to 1970
 Place: Various Marianist High Schools
 Position: Teacher, Assistant Principal

Interests & Hobbies:

- ✓ The Arts, particularly Theatre, Symphony & Art Museum
- ✓ Cooking, especially Italian dishes
- ✓ Walking and Hiking
- ✓ Reading – novels, societal studies, spiritual, business related
- ✓ Participant in a Topical Discussion Group
- ✓ Sudoku, Cross Word Puzzles

Publications

Janney, J., Dess, G., & Forlani, V. (2009). Glass Houses? Market Reactions to Firms Joining the UN Global Compact. Journal of Business Ethics, 90 (3), 407-423.

"Living Asset Stewardship," Forlani, Victor, Castellano, Joseph, Business as a Calling Seminar, Invited, UD School of Business Administration and College of Arts and Sciences, Academic, UD, Dayton, Ohio. (March 1, 2007).

"Business as a Calling: Developing an MBA Course Experience,"
 This paper, with Joseph Castellano, presented at the International Conference of Catholic Universities June, 2008 at Notre Dame. The paper chronicles the development of MBA 659 > Business as a Calling.

"Integrating Catholic Social Teaching into a School of Business Curriculum, Journal of Catholic Higher Education of the Association of Catholic Colleges and Universities.

The article shows how the Living Asset Stewardship model of management developed by Joseph Bragdon in his book, Profit for Life, highlights how many of the core management principles and practices of some of the most successful companies in the world mirror many of the tenants of CST.

UD SBA Center for Faith and Work From "Let's Talk" to a Course to a Center, accepted for the International Conference of Catholic Universities June, 2012 at University of Dayton. The paper chronicles the development of Center for the Integration of Faith and Work at UD.