Employer’s Comments and Advice

Do more research on company prior to speaking to them at career fair.

A few of the students had resumes that were too long and too detailed (more than a page - some 3 pages long). Should be revised to hit the highlights, not everything they did.

We filled out individual interview reviews.

It is great being open about what the candidate wants to do in their career, but it is also good to be able to express what they are enthusiastic about particular areas of their file. This helps in lining the candidate up with the best match. I am seeing a trending of answer saying “I am open for any positions.”

Be proactive in researching the company prior to sitting down for the formal interview and have prepared questions about the company/job position.

I met with two candidates...could not have been more impressed!
