Employers' Comments and Advice

Arrive early in order to be able to communicate with the employers 'Greeter,' as well as fill out any additional paper work. No need to rush this process, take advantage of being able to talk to a more recent graduate at the firm.

I would recommend advising them to reach out to an alumni currently working for that company.

Prepare as much as possible before the interview, but also be able to make the interview conversational in nature.

Come prepared with questions for the interviewer and specific examples when asked questions about your school and work experiences.

Employers' Comments and Advice

The majority of students presented themselves very professionally. However, a few students arrived at the interview a bit disheveled (i.e. sloppy hair, not professionally dressed, ungroomed facial hair). Just a few students but I think this is something that is easily correctable for students.

I love the openness of what they want to do in their careers. They want to be in a setting to get exposure to several areas and that is a great attitude; however, at times, it is too vague. It would be great to know their passions and desires of what they want instead of "just a job." This is really best for both sides of the interview so we get the best possible employment match!

Employers' Comments and Advice

Overall, the students were very well prepared. We continue to be impressed by the caliber of students at UD. It's nice to see a student's personality come through, but there is such a thing as too much information (talking about your fake ID). I would recommend thoroughly researching the company that they are interviewing with before the interview. When you have done your homework on the company, it shows you care about the interview!
