FEBRUARY 18, 2015
8:30 AM–12:00 PM

MENTORING RELATIONSHIPS THAT WORK

This program will kick-off a 9-month mentoring relationship between a mentor and their protégé. Through interactive activities and exercises a mentor and their protégé will collaboratively outline the expectations and guidelines for how to best work together during the next nine months to foster a successful relationship

Mentor and protégé will leave the program having a clear understanding of the benefits and purpose of a formal mentoring relationship. Participants will complete the Mentoring Styles Indicator to identify both mentor and protégé preferred styles of mentoring and how to utilize this information to get the most out of the relationship. Participants will also be introduced to a communication process that will help guide and foster discussions that will lead to productive solutions to the skills and knowledge a protégé is looking to improve upon.

This program is supported through a mentor and protégé mid-point check-up where mentors and protégés meet with staff from the Center for Leadership to assist in maximizing outcomes and the relationship. In addition, mentors will also receive a monthly email that will provide tips on how to be an effective mentor. The Center for Leadership will also host a mentor and protégé celebration at the end of the program to wrap up and debrief the experience.
