2012 SUPERVISORY LEADERSHIP CERTIFICATE PROGRAM

“Before you are a leader, success is all about growing yourself. When you become a leader, success is all about growing others.” - Jack Welch

The Supervisory Leadership Certificate program is a ten day leadership development program for leaders in public, private and not-for-profit organizations presented over six months. This interactive program will assist new and experienced front line leaders in developing skills that will help them maximize individual and team performance. Participating leaders will also benefit from:

- ✓ Instruction from local and regional thought leaders
- ✓ Networking with other front line leaders
- ✓ Multiple assessments, including a comprehensive 360
- ✓ Feedback and coaching
- ✓ Mentoring

Participants will leave this program with a solid foundation that can immediately be transcended into their daily activities

"Our front-line managers carry the burden of organizational performance day-to-day. Some recent studies have shown that front-line nursing managers in particular have one of the most complex management jobs across all industries everywhere. We cannot succeed as an organization without continually growing and developing these front-line leaders, not only in the technical skills they bring to their work but in their general leadership abilities."

ABOUT CLED

WHO WE ARE

The University of Dayton, Center for Leadership & Executive Development (CLED) is a unique partnership between corporate, government and not for profit organizations in the Dayton, Ohio Region and top thought leaders in management and executive education worldwide.

We provide programs and services that address the needs of organizations by developing more effective leaders – strategic leaders who can build a successful future.

WHAT WE DO

The CLED grows stronger businesses and communities by developing our leaders. We're delivering a value-based leadership development system designed to enable the personal and professional growth of individuals in leadership roles.

The greatest achievements are derived from individuals who are inspired, empowered and prepared to do great things. Great communities are created by great leaders; so our leaders of tomorrow must start preparing today.

HOW WE DO IT

Through partnerships and open enrollment, we make it possible for all existing and future leaders to get engaged and take advantage of the programs and benefits we have to offer.

By partnering with top universities, area businesses and professionals, we are able to apply practical, fundamental, end-to-end training at every level of organizational leadership, while maintaining corporate culture and promoting an environment where people are valued first.

Learn. LEAD. Serve.
