“SEARCH TO ALLEVIATE HUMAN RIGHTS SUFFERING”
A DAY WITH THE OSHER LIFELONG LEARNING INSTITUTE
AT THE UNIVERSITY OF DAYTON

The University of Dayton Osher Lifelong Learning Institute (UDLLI) is proud to share our 2015 summer program. Continuing the tradition of offering quality educational opportunities that are informative and diversified, the program features two one-day sessions with separate themes. The first theme is “Today’s Technology Trends.” The second theme is “Search to Alleviate Human Rights Suffering.”

The program begins May 14 with the annual UDLLI meeting followed by an introduction to the technology program, the annual moderator appreciation luncheon and two panel discussions. After registration and a continental breakfast June 3, we hear from a panel of experts in human rights.

The Osher Lifelong Learning Institute at the University of Dayton (UDLLI) began 20 years ago as the University of Dayton Institute for Learning in Retirement or UDILR. Since 2004 we have been proud members of the Osher Lifelong Learning Network, a group of more than 100 institutes across the country dedicated to meeting the needs of adult learners over 50 years of age who wish to gather for the joy of learning and personal fulfillment.

OUR MISSION STATEMENT

The purpose of the Osher Lifelong Learning Institute at the University of Dayton is to offer adults 50 years or better a wide variety of seminars based on the peer-learning concept and designed to be intellectually stimulating in an informal and noncompetitive environment.

We are a community
We are adults with wide-ranging interests in art, current events, health and fitness, history, literature, music, religion and science. A curriculum committee selects our curriculum on the basis of member requests, the expertise of moderators, variety and balance. Moderators include University of Dayton (UD) professors and community professionals who lead peer-to-peer informal lecture and discussion seminars that meet once a week for two hours, for four to eight weeks. The summer session is two one-day sessions.

Our seminars are noncredit
There are neither tests nor grades, nor educational requirements. Participation is essential, ranging from keeping up with assigned readings and contributing to seminar discussion to sharing the results of one’s own research. A majority of the seminars are held in the 1700 South Patterson Building, others on the UD main campus with a few at off-site locations, such as the Boonshoft Museum of Discovery. The map on pages 10-11 identifies the location of River Campus and other UD buildings.

UDLLI is a cooperative venture
We rely on the contributions and participation, both in seminars and out, of each member. Members teach seminars, coordinate lecture series, lead small group discussions, organize activities and volunteer projects, serve on the board of advisors and committees, act as seminar liaisons, help in the office and volunteer for all other tasks that keep us going.

Becoming a member of UDLLI is easy
Registering for seminars is simple and convenient. Pages 18 and 19 give complete registration information and procedures. Once you register for a seminar, you automatically become a UDLLI participating member for the current academic year. The term of membership conforms to the academic calendar, beginning in September and ending in June.

Friends of the Institute are individuals donating $80 or more each year to support UDLLI’s goals; Life Members are individuals making a one-time donation of $2,000 or more; and Distinguished Service Life Members are individuals giving UDLLI extraordinary service. Life and Distinguished Service Life Members may attend seminars at no cost.

We are part of the University of Dayton’s Office of Special Programs and Continuing Education, which is directed by Julie Mitchell and sponsors lifelong learning programs and professional development. Founded in 1994 as the University of Dayton Institute for Learning in Retirement, we have grown from the original 98 members to more than 2,000 members.
Members’ benefits
As a UDLLI member, you are invited to participate in UDLLI activities and related continuing education-sponsored events such as the Duane W. Chapman Senior Symposium, Senior Fellows graduate/undergraduate audit program, New Horizons Music Program, Road Scholar (the Elderhostel Institute Network) and University programs. Page 13 gives more information about these programs.

As a UD community member, you are invited to participate in UD-sponsored activities such as lectures, recitals, and art and cultural events, and enjoy campus privileges such as use of the faculty, staff and graduate student Barrett Dining Room, Roesch Library and the RecPlex (membership fee required). You’re welcome to shop at the UD Bookstore and eat at the campus coffee bars or ArtStreet Café. For identification, you’ll use your name badge received upon registering for your first seminar.

You may qualify for a grant
If you meet certain financial criteria, you may qualify for a UDLLI grant, entitling you to enjoy all UDLLI member benefits and attend seminars at no cost or a reduced cost. Call the Office of Special Programs and Continuing Education at 937-229-2605 or 937-229-2347 for additional information.

Parking and RTA
During registration, you may request a permit to park on campus. If you need a parking permit, please select the appropriate boxes to indicate your parking needs. The fee is $30 per parking permit. If you have special parking needs, the Office of Special Programs and Continuing Education will provide assistance. If you wish to ride the RTA, call RTA customer service at 937-425-8300 for schedule and senior discount information.

Are you interested in moderating a seminar?
UDLLI is grateful to its volunteer moderators who share their knowledge and provide a comprehensive curriculum. Moderators become Friends of the Institute for the academic year in which they teach. They and their spouses can enjoy member benefits and may attend seminars during the year at no cost. If you are interested in learning more about becoming a moderator, UDLLI would be happy to talk with you. Call special programs and continuing education at 937-229-2605 or 937-229-2347 for more information.

For questions and additional information
UDLLI is interested in helping you attain your lifelong learning goals. To read our brochure online, visit go.udayton.edu/udlli. For more information or to be added to our mailing list, please call the Office of Special Programs and Continuing Education at 937-229-2605 or 937-229-2347.

“TODAY’S TECHNOLOGY TRENDS”
Learn more about current technology trends and how they are affecting our everyday lives. Technology is rapidly changing around us. Cars can self-park, navigate and start without keys in the ignition; email has been replaced by Twitter and Yik Yak; people pay bills electronically, which has affected the U.S. Postal Service; and smartphones are replacing laptops and desktop computers. Teeny-tiny plastic strips on your keychain have replaced the need to clip coupons. Credit cards are being replaced with digital wallets. All of these changes and more have made life simpler but also more complex for some people.

Conversation with Gary Ginter, CIO of Premier Health
10:30 a.m.–12 p.m.
River Campus Auditorium

Our keynote speaker will present technology advances in health care. How has technology improved patient care in the Miami Valley and what types of changes are being planned for the future that will use technology?

Gary Ginter is currently system vice president and chief information officer for Premier Health (a joint operating company composed of Miami Valley Hospital, Atrium Medical Center, Good Samaritan Hospital and Upper Valley Medical Center) in Dayton. Ginter has 30 years of information systems experience in a variety of industries.

Moderator Appreciation Luncheon
12:15–1:30 p.m.
River Campus Dining Room

Panel 1: Technology and Security
1:30-2:30 p.m.

The use of technology-based devices is changing many aspects of our daily lives and creating opportunities and vulnerabilities that impact our safety, personal and financial security, consumer protections and privacy rights. This panel brings together subject matter experts in cybersecurity, consumer protection and law enforcement to discuss the trends and challenges of digital media in the 21st century. Our panel includes FBI special agents involved in financial crimes and cybersecurity investigations, representatives from the Consumer Protection Section of the Ohio attorney general’s office, and a private sector cybersecurity expert.

The panel moderator is Jeffrey W. Mitchell, chief of police in Lebanon, Ohio, a nationally accredited law enforcement agency. A retired special agent in the Air Force Office of Special Investigations, he has extensive experience in conducting felony criminal, fraud and counterintelligence investigations. Chief Mitchell has an associate’s degree in criminal justice, Bachelor of Science degree in organizational management and a Master of Public Administration degree from the University of Dayton. He is a graduate of the Police Executive Leadership College, Northwestern University School of Police Staff and Command, and the Certified Law Enforcement Executive Program. Chief Mitchell is an adjunct instructor at the Ohio Peace Officer Training Academy in London, Ohio.
Panel 2: Current Trends in Technology
2:45-3:45 p.m.
Moderator Tim Hrastar

“What are they doing with my data?”
Patrick Quigley, senior vice president and general manager of Market6, will describe how data is exploding around us. What is being done with this information? We will explore how companies such as Kroger, P&G and others are using the data to help you, the consumer.

“All about Apple”
Aaron Adams, an Apple certified consultant, worked as the lead IT person for MacTown in Dayton, Ohio, from 2009 until its closure in 2014. Currently he’s building an IT startup company, Empyrean, in conjunction with the CreativeFuse Initiative. He will discuss how Apple smartphones, Apple Watch and Apple Pay technology will change the way we live in the future.

“The Internet of things”
Don Quigley, adjunct professor at UD and a member of the UDLLI board of advisors, will talk about cloud computing, Google Glass and nanotechnology. Using down-to-earth terms, Quigley will explain other current trends and how they will be impacting our life.
“SEARCH TO ALLEVIATE HUMAN RIGHTS SUFFERING”

Registration and Continental Breakfast
9–9:30 a.m.

Welcome and Introduction
9:30–9:45 a.m.
Director Julie Mitchell

Julie Mitchell is director of the University of Dayton’s Office of Special Programs and Continuing Education and the Osher Lifelong Learning Institute.

Working on the Frontier of Research and Advocacy
9:45–11:30 a.m.

Mark Ensalaco, director of human rights research at the University of Dayton, will discuss the University’s Human Rights Center’s unique mission, its grounding in the University’s Catholic and Marianist identity, and its major activities in the areas of education, research, dialogue and advocacy. He will also discuss a project on slave labor the center is conducting with Catholic Relief Services and the National Conference of Bishops of Brazil.

Ensalaco is an associate professor of political science and the former director of the international studies program. In 2007, he became the director of the newly formed Human Rights Studies Program which, through the Department of Political Science, now offers a Bachelor of Arts degree in human rights. He joined the UD faculty in 1989 and currently serves as the University’s director of human rights research.

His degrees include a Ph.D. in political science from the State University of New York (1991), an MTS from Harvard Divinity School (1984) and a B.A. (magna cum laude) from the Department of Classics at the University at Buffalo (1981).

Ensalaco has taught courses including Politics of Human Rights, Comparative Politics: Latin America, United States-Latin America Relations, Political Violence and Introduction to Comparative Politics.

His professional activities include an array of organizations in which he is very active. They include Abolition Ohio: The Rescue and Restore Coalition in the Miami Valley, of which he is a co-founder and director; Catholic Relief Services, Archdiocese of Cincinnati; Peace and Justice Advisory Committee of the Association of Catholic Colleges and Universities; International Human Rights Education Consortium; Ohio Attorney General’s Trafficking in Persons Study Commission; and Catholic Relief Services’ Scholars in Global Solidarity project.

In addition to his professional activities, Ensalaco has published numerous articles in professional journals on the subject of human rights.

Lunch
11:45 a.m.–12:45 p.m.
River Campus Dining Room

Addressing the Issue of Sex Trafficking
1–2:30 p.m.

Tony Talbott is coordinator of the anti-trafficking program at the University of Dayton’s Human Rights Center and also serves as director of Abolition Ohio: The Rescue and Restore Coalition in the Miami Valley. He will discuss how the community can become involved in the Human Rights Center’s work to prevent sex trafficking in the area.

Originally from Dayton, Talbot joined the military and served a total of 13 years in both the Army National Guard and the U.S. Navy. He traveled extensively throughout the western Pacific and Indian Ocean regions, including Asia, Australia and Africa.

Talbott has lectured at many different colleges and universities and has taught in the Department of Political Science and Human Rights Studies Program at the University of Dayton since 2007. He has taught, lectured and published on a variety of subjects dealing with global politics, Asian politics and human rights and is currently teaching one of the nation’s first undergraduate courses on human trafficking.
His degrees include a Ph.D. in political science from Arizona State University (2000), an M.A. in international affairs from Ohio University (1997) and a B.A. in history and government from Columbia College in San Francisco (1995).

Talbott has taught courses including Global Politics, Introduction to Comparative Politics, Comparative Politics: Southeast and East Asia, Human Trafficking and Model United Nations.

He is a credentialed citizen investigator of human trafficking with the organization Not for Sale and a founding member of Abolition Ohio: The Rescue and Restore Coalition in the Miami Valley. He also serves on the Ohio Attorney General’s Human Trafficking Commission. Talbott works closely with various anti-human trafficking agencies around the state and speaks regularly on issues dealing with human trafficking throughout Ohio and the Midwest.

In addition to his professional activities, Talbott has published numerous articles in professional journals on the subject of human rights.

Education for Action
2:45–3:30 p.m.
In this session, UD students active in the Human Rights Center’s major educational program, Consciousness Rising; the Malawi Research Practicum on Rights and Development; and the New Abolitionist Movement will discuss how their UD education prepares them to be human rights and humanitarian professionals.

Wine and Cheese Reception
3:30 p.m.
River Campus Dining Room
There will be a reception in the River Campus Dining Room immediately following the last workshop session. During the social time, your reactions to the program would be appreciated and used to plan for next summer’s session.
A GIFT FOR US ALL

To celebrate the 20th anniversary of the Osher Lifelong Learning Institute at the University of Dayton, we’d like to give a gift that we can all share.

Our beautiful outdoor area surrounding the 1700 South Patterson Building offers the perfect opportunity to create a reflection garden where we can sit or walk in quiet contemplation of our world.

In the true spirit of the University’s Catholic, Marianist heritage, it will be a place to be shared. A place where the beauty of the world will allow our mind — and our spirit — to reflect on what we’ve learned and experienced in our lives.

Our goal is to raise $250,000 for pathways, benches, a water feature and natural landscaping to promote self-reflection and awareness.

We’re proud to be a part of the University community, and for our 20th anniversary, we’d like to celebrate by giving a gift that the entire community can share.

Make your gift today for this place of reflection and peace. Honor a loved one or make a donation in memory of someone who inspired your lifetime of learning.

Other Senior Programs at UD

SENIOR FELLOWS

If you are 60 years of age or better, you can become a UD Senior Fellow. Membership in the Senior Fellows program includes the privilege of attending any two classes for which you meet the prerequisite — graduate or undergraduate — each term on an audit basis. (Books and special fees are extra.)

ROAD SCHOLAR (FORMERLY ELDERHOSTEL INSTITUTE NETWORK)

Each summer, UD hosts people from throughout the United States and sometimes Canada. They come to Dayton to live on campus for one week and experience the Road Scholar program at UD. Road Scholar is an educational program for senior adults who want to continue to expand their horizons and develop new interests.

NEW HORIZONS MUSIC

Learn to play music in a band as a senior adult — even if you have no musical experience! Playing music is a special joy that will help you maintain mental and physical health. It is also a way of experiencing life — playing music from the past keeps us in touch with those feelings; daily practice keeps us active in the present; and striving for new goals attaches us to the future. One band member describes it as “serious fun.”

As a member of New Horizons Music, you will meet new friends and work with them as a team to learn music for concerts and other performances in the community. New Horizons ensembles typically perform many times each year in venues ranging from formal concerts to shopping malls and from parks to retirement and nursing homes.

UD New Horizons Music offers adults 50 years of age or better the opportunity to begin a musical instrument and provides a re-entry point for those who have been away from active music making for many years. Instruments taught include: flute, oboe, bassoon, clarinet, saxophone, trumpet, French horn, trombone, baritone, tuba and percussion.
