A DAY WITH THE OSHER LIFELONG LEARNING INSTITUTE
AT THE UNIVERSITY OF DAYTON

The University of Dayton Osher Lifelong Learning Institute (UDLLI) is proud to share our 2016 summer program. Continuing the tradition of offering quality educational opportunities that are informative and diversified, the program features two one-day sessions with separate themes. The first theme is “A UDLLI Sampler.” The second theme is “How the Brain Works.”

The program begins May 12 with the annual UDLLI meeting followed by a presentation about the “University of Dayton Today and Tomorrow,” the annual moderator appreciation luncheon and a choice of two from a list of six workshop sessions.

On June 1, the day begins with registration and a continental breakfast and continues with presentations and panel discussions with the latest information on the human brain.

The Osher Lifelong Learning Institute at the University of Dayton (UDLLI) began more than 20 years ago as the University of Dayton Institute for Learning in Retirement or UDILR. Since 2004 we have been proud members of the Osher Lifelong Learning Network, a group of more than 100 institutes across the country dedicated to meeting the needs of adult learners over 50 years of age who wish to gather for the joy of learning and personal fulfillment.

OUR MISSION STATEMENT

The purpose of the Osher Lifelong Learning Institute at the University of Dayton is to offer adults 50 years or better a wide variety of seminars based on the peer-learning concept and designed to be intellectually stimulating in an informal and noncompetitive environment.

We are a community
We are adults with wide-ranging interests in art, current events, health and fitness, history, literature, music, religion and science. A curriculum committee selects our curriculum on the basis of member requests, the expertise of moderators, variety and balance. Moderators include University of Dayton (UD) professors and community professionals who lead peer-to-peer informal lecture and discussion seminars that meet once a week for two hours, for four to eight weeks. The summer session is two one-day sessions.

Our seminars are noncredit
There are neither tests nor grades, nor educational requirements. Participation is essential, ranging from keeping up with assigned readings and contributing to seminar discussion to sharing the results of one’s own research. A majority of the seminars are held in the 1700 South Patterson Building, others on the UD main campus with a few at off-site locations, such as the Boonshoft Museum of Discovery. The map on Pages 10-11 identifies the location of River Campus and other UD buildings.

UDLLI is a cooperative venture
We rely on the contributions and participation, both in seminars and out, of each member. Members teach seminars, coordinate lecture series, lead small group discussions, organize activities and volunteer projects, serve on the board of advisors and committees, act as seminar liaisons, help in the office and volunteer for all other tasks that keep us going.

Becoming a member of UDLLI is easy
Registering for seminars is simple and convenient. Pages 18 and 19 give complete registration information and procedures. Once you register for a seminar, you automatically become a UDLLI participating member for the current academic year. The term of membership conforms to the academic calendar, beginning in September and ending in June.

Friends of the Institute are individuals donating $80 or more each year to support UDLLI’s goals; Life Members are individuals making a one-time donation of $2,000 or more; and Distinguished Service Life Members are individuals giving UDLLI extraordinary service. Life and Distinguished Service Life Members may attend seminars at no cost.

We are part of the University of Dayton’s Office of Special Programs and Continuing Education, which is directed by Julie Mitchell and sponsors lifelong learning programs and professional development. Founded in 1994 as the University of Dayton Institute for Learning in Retirement, we have grown from the original 98 members to more than 2,000 members.
Members’ benefits
As a UDLLI member, you are invited to participate in UDLLI activities and related continuing education-sponsored events such as the Duane W. Chapman Senior Symposium, Senior Fellows graduate/undergraduate audit program, New Horizons Music Program, Road Scholar (the Elderhostel Institute Network) and University programs. Page 13 gives more information about these programs.

As a UD community member, you are invited to participate in UD-sponsored activities such as lectures, recitals, and art and cultural events, and to enjoy campus privileges such as use of the faculty, staff and graduate student Barrett Dining Room, Roesch Library and the RecPlex (membership fee required). You’re welcome to shop at the UD Bookstore and eat at the campus coffee bars or ArtStreet Café. For identification, you’ll use your name badge received upon registering for your first seminar.

You may qualify for a grant
If you meet certain financial criteria, you may qualify for a UDLLI grant, entitling you to enjoy all UDLLI member benefits and attend seminars at no cost or a reduced cost. Call the Office of Special Programs and Continuing Education at 937-229-2605 or 937-229-2347 for additional information.

Parking and RTA
If you have special parking needs, the Office of Special Programs and Continuing Education will provide assistance. If you wish to ride the RTA, call RTA customer service at 937-425-8300 for schedule and senior discount information.

Are you interested in moderating a seminar?
UDLLI is grateful to its volunteer moderators who share their knowledge and provide a comprehensive curriculum. Moderators become Friends of the Institute for the academic year in which they teach. They and their spouses can enjoy member benefits and may attend seminars during the year at no cost. If you are interested in learning more about becoming a moderator, UDLLI would be happy to talk with you. Call the Office of Special Programs and Continuing Education at 937-229-2605 or 937-229-2347 for more information.

For questions and additional information

Julie Mitchell is director of the University of Dayton’s Office of Special Programs and Continuing Education and the Osher Lifelong Learning Institute.

University of Dayton Today and Tomorrow
11 a.m.–noon
River Campus Auditorium

Dr. Paul Benson, interim provost of the University of Dayton, will share with us some of his thoughts about the accomplishments of the University of Dayton in recent years, the plans for the transition as we welcome a new president on July 1 and ideas of what lies ahead for this new administration.

Dr. Paul Benson, professor in the Department of Philosophy, currently serves as interim provost at the University of Dayton. He received his B.A. degree from St. Olaf College and his Ph.D. from Princeton University. A specialist in contemporary ethics and social philosophy, he has an international reputation for his research on personal autonomy. A native of Chicago, he and his wife live in an historic district in downtown Dayton.

Moderator Appreciation Luncheon
noon–1:30 p.m.
River Campus Dining Room

Workshop Sessions
1:30–2:30 p.m. and 2:45–3:45 p.m.
All workshops will be held at River Campus, 2nd Floor

The Changing World of the Sports Media
We will discuss the changing landscape the media (the sports media in particular) have seen in the last 60 years. This will involve not only the evolution of various sports, but also of the many vehicles the media have used to report on their activities.

Bucky Albers is a retired sports writer who spent 50 years reporting on sports in the Dayton area. Most of that time was spent working for the Journal-Herald and the Dayton Daily News. Albers covered events such as the Super Bowl, the World Series, the NCAA Basketball Championship, and the Indianapolis and Daytona 500s. His beats included the Cleveland Browns, Cincinnati Bengals, Cincinnati Reds and the University of Dayton Flyers.

State and Local Politics: The Process and Party Perspectives
The history and current political process at the state and local levels are discussed from the perspective of both a Republican and a Democrat.

Patrick Flanagan is a graduate of Chaminade High School, the University of Dayton (1963) and Chase College of Law (1967). He has been in private law practice for 48 years and active in the Republican Party for 46 years.

Dennis Lieberman graduated from Miami University in 1975 and graduated cum laude from the University of Dayton School of Law in 1978. He was chair of the Democratic Party in Montgomery County for 13 years.

Biblical Tax Rate
Taxation is almost always a hot political topic. It often happens that political figures will seek to promote their views by saying that they follow the model of taxation that God presented to Israel in the Bible. But do these politicians really understand the nature of Biblical taxation? We will take a close look at it in this class, and students will be able to then decide for themselves.

Rabbi Nochum Mangel, founder and director of Chabad of Greater Dayton, is the presenter and co-author of the highly successful video series on issues of the 2012 election, available in video on chabad.org. He is co-author as well of the 10-part Torah Studies course on Jewish business ethics titled “Achieving Integrity” and of the Rohr Jewish Learning Institute course “Money Matters: A Jewish Exploration of Ethical Dilemmas in Business.”

The Art of Collage Making
Using decorative papers, stencils, paint and other objects, participants will create an abstract collage. If desired, the collage can be tailored to suit the color scheme of any room in a home. All materials will be furnished.

Christy Jennewein is a working artist whose abstract works appear in numerous offices and buildings throughout the greater Dayton area. She is the former director of the Cannery Art and Design Center and current owner and director of the Patterson Art Gallery. Jennewein most recently taught art at the Stivers School for the Arts.

Nancy Hatton has studied art at the Dayton Art Institute and local colleges, and creates still life paintings as a hobby.

A “Hooded Capital”: Dayton and the Ku Klux Klan in the 1920s
The “second” Ku Klux Klan exploded into national prominence in the 1920s. While the original Klan was based in the South and concentrated its animus against the newly freed slaves, the second KKK was a national organization that expanded its list of social scapegoats to include Catholics, Jews and immigrants. Dayton was one of the great “hooded capitals” of the United States, and the Dayton Klan targeted — with fiery crosses and even with bombs — Catholic neighborhoods, churches and, of course, the University of Dayton.

William Trollinger is professor of history at the University of Dayton. Besides writing on the Ku Klux Klan, he is the author (with Susan Trollinger) of Righting America at the Creation Museum, which has just been published by Johns Hopkins University Press.

My Life as Ersatz Barrister
Dennis Turner will describe his experience of working with British barristers trying criminal cases in England.

Dennis Turner has served as assistant dean, acting dean, director of the law clinic, director of the legal profession program, chair of the admissions committee and adviser for both the mock trial teams and the moot court board at the UD School of Law. He won the UD Award for Teaching in 1990 and has also been chosen as Professor of the Year twice by School of Law students. He is the only remaining full-time faculty member from 1974, when the School of Law reopened. He calls teaching at UD rewarding. “UD is a great institution,” he has said. “Here I am 30 years later and still having a great time.”
HOW THE BRAIN WORKS
The goal of today’s program is to examine the latest information on the human brain and how it works. Local professionals will offer current research and practices in treating people of all ages with brain disease or injury to aid in healing.

Registration and Continental Breakfast
9–9:15 a.m.
Front Desk and Dining Room
1700 South Patterson, River Campus

Welcome and Introduction
9:15–9:30 a.m.
Julie Mitchell

Julie Mitchell is director of the University of Dayton’s Office of Special Programs and Continuing Education and the Osher Lifelong Learning Institute.

Optimum Functioning: How the Brain Works
Affect the quality of your life by understanding how the brain works. Learn brain basics to optimize brain function. Learn four techniques to keep your brain healthy.
Presenter: Ann Anzalone
9:30–10:30 a.m.

Ann Anzalone is a dynamic teacher. She specializes in teaching current brain-based research, brain growth and development, and effective learning skills. Anzalone teaches graduate classes, works with school districts throughout the country and maintains a private practice.

Break
10:30–10:45 a.m.

Exercising With the Brain in Mind
This session teaches practical techniques to keep your brain healthy, active and connected. The brain is continually wiring and rewiring. Experience three exercises to improve your thinking, develop memory and maintain focus. Discover five key practices to incorporate in your daily routine to keep your brain fit.
Presenter: Ann Anzalone
10:45–11:30 a.m.

Lunch
11:30 a.m.–1 p.m.
River Campus Dining Room

Panel 1 – Retraining the Brain
This presentation will review some of the evidence on how exercise and physical activity can change our brains for the better.
Moderator: Linda Fischbach
1–2:30 p.m.
Panelists: Adrianne Johnson, Cheryl Wheeler and Kurt Jackson

Adrianne Johnson, Ph.D., is an assistant professor in the Clinical Mental Health Counseling program at Wright State University and a clinical mental health provider at Plum Street Counseling in Springfield, Ohio.

Cheryl Wheeler is director of Children and Senior Services for Goodwill Easter Seals Miami Valley (serving 23 counties), and has been working with seniors and children for over 30 years.

Kurt Jackson, P.T., Ph.D., GCS, is the neurology coordinator for the University of Dayton’s Doctor of Physical Therapy Program. He conducts clinical research on exercise and rehabilitation of individuals with neurological disorders and has published numerous scientific articles and book chapters.

Break
2:30–2:45 p.m.

Panel 2 – Healing the Brain
Moderator: Tim Hrastar
Panelists: Judi MacLeod, Eric VanVlymen and Dr. Bradley Jacobs
2:45–4 p.m.

This session will examine different approaches to healing those people who have been compromised by brain injuries, either from birth or later in life.

When looking at autism, learning disabilities, strokes and other brain issues, there is always a concern about how a person is able to communicate. What are the current and the old tried-and-true ways to help a person communicate with loved ones when the brain will not allow it to happen?

Judi MacLeod is the director of special education at Chaminade Julienne Catholic High School. She currently holds a license in developmental disabilities, multi-disabilities, deaf and hard of hearing. She is also a national board-certified teacher.

Eric VanVlymen leads the Alzheimer’s Association Miami Valley Chapter as executive director. He also teaches as an adjunct professor at Cedarville University in the social work department and serves on the Ohio Association of Gerontology and Education board.

Dr. Bradley Jacobs graduated from The Ohio State University College of Medicine. He completed neurology residency at Albert Einstein College of Medicine and a fellowship in stroke and neuroepidemiology at the Columbia University. He is currently an associate professor of neurology at Wright State University Boonshoft School of Medicine.
NOTE:
The Office of Special Programs and Continuing Education is located on the University of Dayton's River Campus at 1700 South Patterson Blvd.

Other Senior Programs at UD

SENIOR FELLOWS

If you are 60 years of age or better, you can become a UD Senior Fellow. Membership in the Senior Fellows program includes the privilege of attending any two classes for which you meet the prerequisite — graduate or undergraduate — each term on an audit basis. (Books and special fees are extra.)

ROAD SCHOLAR (FORMERLY ELDERHOSTEL INSTITUTE NETWORK)

Each summer, UD hosts people from throughout the United States and sometimes Canada. They come to Dayton to live on campus for one week and experience the Road Scholar program at UD. Road Scholar is an educational program for senior adults who want to continue to expand their horizons and develop new interests.

NEW HORIZONS MUSIC

Learn to play music in a band as a senior adult — even if you have no musical experience! Playing music is a special joy that will help you maintain mental and physical health. It is also a way of experiencing life — playing music from the past keeps us in touch with those feelings; daily practice keeps us active in the present; and striving for new goals attaches us to the future. One band member describes it as “serious fun.”

As a member of New Horizons Music, you will meet new friends and work with them as a team to learn music for concerts and other performances in the community. New Horizons ensembles typically perform many times each year in venues ranging from formal concerts to shopping malls and from parks to retirement and nursing homes.

UD New Horizons Music offers adults 50 years of age or better the opportunity to begin a musical instrument and provides a re-entry point for those who have been away from active music making for many years. Instruments taught include: flute, oboe, bassoon, clarinet, saxophone, trumpet, French horn, trombone, baritone, tuba and percussion.
