THIRST OPENING EVENT

5:30 p.m.-6:30 p.m. ArtStreet White Box Gallery

THIRST engages what it is that we desire, that we long for, encouraging viewers to consider the desires that are so deeply embedded in us that they can be difficult to access. Beyond money, good health, or novel experiences, THIRST invites us to consider the ways in which we substitute what we really desire with temporary and unsustainable comforts. Creative Lead Andrew Hendrixson is an artist and writer whose recent work includes collaborations with incarcerated youth and an experimental art project that seeks to create conversational spaces in homes across the country about the role of the arts.

ARTSLIVE: DON QUIXOTE PERFORMANCE

8:00 p.m.-10:00 p.m. KU Boll Theater

This performance is an inventive music and dance troupe from Chennai, India on tour with a production of Don Quixote that combines multiple art forms to unfold a tale with universal relevance. Cervantes' idealistic tale—which this year celebrates its 400th anniversary—is long and complex, but its series of fantastic adventures shared by the knight errant Don Quixote and his sidekick Sancho Panza has charmed audiences for centuries and across continents. Their cross-cultural production is the first adaptation of Cervantes' novel in the Bharatanatyam idiom, the most popular and widely performed type of classical Indian dance today.

YEAR OF CONSECRATED LIFE FILM SERIES: OF GODS AND MEN

7:30 p.m. Sears Recital Hall

This feature film focuses on an order of Trappist monks whose members include Christian (Lambert Wilson) and Luc (Michael Lonsdale) who live among the Muslim population in a quiet corner of Algeria. As the country is plunged into civil war in the mid-1990s, the men of God must decide whether to stay among the impoverished residents who have been their neighbors, or flee the encroaching fundamentalist terrorists. The situation that unfolds, based on actual events, has tragic consequences.

CONSUMPTION OPENING EVENT

5:30 p.m.-6:30 p.m. ArtStreet White Box Gallery

What do we consume? Why? And what happens when we take too much? CONSUMPTION invites us to explore how the process of consumption manifests as action, stemming from the desire of thirst and building to the fear that resources might run out. Creative Lead Sean Foster attempts to bridge gaps between commercial and the 'fine' arts, incorporating the tenets of mass production and communication through sensory experiences.

KRISTALLNACHT OBSERVANCE "NIGHT OF BROKEN GLASS"

5:00 p.m.-6:00 p.m. Chapel of Immaculate Conception

On November 9, 1938, the Nazis unleashed a wave of pogroms (targeted riots) against Germany's Jews. In the space of a few hours, thousands of synagogues and Jewish businesses and homes were damaged or destroyed. This event came to be called Kristallnacht or "Night of Broken Glass" for the shattered store windowpanes that carpeted German Streets. For the first time, Jews were arrested on a massive scale and transported to Nazi concentration camps. We live in a world where ethnic and racial violence still exists. Let us stand together and say "never again".

FEAR OPENING EVENT

5:30 p.m.-6:30 p.m. ArtStreet White Box Gallery

FEAR is so absolutely ingrained in our society that it has nearly become an American pastime. News reports, our social media news feeds, even our daily interactions with our fellow citizens are fraught with our visions of the most horrible things that have happened, could happen or may not happen at all. FEAR presents an opportunity for us to do battle creatively against one of the most powerful emotions that holds us back from ourselves and from each other. Creative Lead Krista Franklin is an interdisciplinary artist whose work floats between the literary and the visual. Her art draws from the well of African diasporic histories, popular culture, personal narrative, folklore, black spiritualism, ritual and magic, and the psychic interiority of people of color.

MONTHLY

REAL TOPICS (TBA)

Alumni Hall, RM 101

The Office of Multicultural Affairs is committed to recognizing the histories, cultures, experiences, and contributions of diverse populations. REAL Topics are designed to provide an interactive and comfortable forum for UD community members to engage in healthy discussion about current and critical issues in popular culture. It is important to provide a comfortable place for students and other UD community members to connect with each other in this setting, as it allows community members to not only build relationships with one another, but to ultimately serve as resources for one another in terms of personal support, growth and development. In collaboration with faculty, staff, students, and the Dayton community, OMA seeks to provide thought-provoking co-curricular programming that supports the personal development of all students, faculty and staff while also influencing the campus climate. REAL Topics will occur once a month.
