USING YOUR LAPTOP FOR EXAMS 2016-17 Academic Year

The University of Dayton School of Law offers you the ability to take your exams using your laptop computer. The following is an explanation of the software you will be required to use and the process necessary to prepare your laptop.

Who is ExamSoft?

ExamSoft Worldwide, Inc. is a software developer specializing in computerized assessment and assessment administration programs.

What is SofTest from ExamSoft?

SofTest is a high stakes assessment program developed and licensed by ExamSoft that enables exam takers to securely take examinations downloaded to their own laptop computers by blocking access to files, programs and the Internet during an exam.

SofTest provides a word processing format similar to

Microsoft Word or Corel WordPerfect for your essay exam responses. Explained briefly, a generic exam format will be used for all essay exams. You will be downloading individual exam files for each exam at the appropriate time--before each scheduled midterm exam and again before the final exam period begins each term. The exam files are password protected to ensure that the exam file can be opened only at the time of the exam. The generic format will not contain the exam questions. All questions will be in hard copy.

What is FlexSite?

FlexSite is ExamSoft's Internet-based exam delivery option. Using SofTest, you will download your exam(s) prior to exam day and upload your answer(s) after the exam via the Internet. You WILL NOT require Internet connectivity during your exam(s). You WILL require Internet connectivity to download your exam(s) and upload your answers(s), and will be using the University of Dayton School of Law wireless access.
