

The University Libraries are committed to maintaining an atmosphere conducive to research and study. Behavior of groups or individuals which disrupts or obstructs the library-related work and activities of the University community is prohibited. To report disruptive activity, go to the first floor Circulation desk or call 229-4234.

Exhibit Gallery (1st floor Roesch)

The exhibit gallery is open to exhibitors of paintings, photographs, or 3-dimensional artwork. Exhibit hours are identical to hours the library is open. Pieces may be hung on the walls or placed in the glass cases as available. Second floor walls may also be used with special permission. Priority of scheduling is given to University of Dayton visual arts department students, University faculty, and staff. Call 937-229-4094 for more information.

Cell Phone Use

To promote a quiet and productive research and study environment, please limit your cell phone usage to areas least likely to disturb others, such as the stairwells. As a courtesy, please set your cell phone to vibrate or silent mode when entering the library. Please keep your conversations brief and conduct them in a low voice. The library reserves the right to ask anyone to leave the library if he/she is using a cell phone that is disturbing others in any area of the library. To report noisy cell phone users, go to the first floor Access Services desk or call 229-4234.

Sleeping

Habitual sleepers, noisy sleepers and those who are sprawled on furniture or the floor in a manner disturbing to other persons are unacceptable. To report this activity, go to the first floor Access Services desk or call 229-4234.

Unattended Children

Children under the age of 14 must be accompanied by an adult. At the discretion of library staff, middle school students (ages 12-14), who are using the library for school research, may be permitted to stay unattended if they are behaving in an appropriate manner. High school age students (14-17) may use the library for research purposes. Unattended children under the age of 14, middle and high school students not using the library for research purposes and any person behaving in an unacceptable manner will be asked to leave the library. To report unattended children, go to the first floor Access Services desk or call 229-4234.

As a depository of government publications, University Libraries provides free access for the general public to the US government publications collection. Unaccompanied minors needing assistance with government information or government publications should contact the Research Services staff at 937-229-4270 prior to visiting the library.
