Hate Has No Home Here:
"We know many people at UD and in the region remain concerned about, and unsure how to respond to, the white supremacy rally planned for May 25 at Courthouse Square in downtown Dayton. The University of Dayton is responding with dialogue, education and actions of love and unity; by honoring the rights and dignity of every person; and by declaring hate has no home in our city, on our campus or in our hearts. The following opportunities for education, dialogue, solidarity, acts of nonviolence and prayerful healing are also planned. Invitations and publicity will be dispersed electronically and around campus." - Please see Porches for more info, and share widely.

- A Teach-in about White Supremacy from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. April 9 in the Kennedy Union Torch Lounge where UD faculty and staff will share information about historical and contemporary white supremacy and hate movements, including in Ohio. For more information, contact Shelley Inglis, executive director of the Human Rights Center at singlis1@udayton.edu.

- A reading of "Hearing the Silence: The University of Dayton, the Ku Klux Klan, and Catholic Universities and Colleges in the 1920s," by history professor Bill Trollinger, from noon to 1 p.m. April 11 in Kennedy Union 207. The Creating Inclusive Communities program will sponsor the reading. For more information, contact Castel Sweet, coordinator for community engaged learning and scholarship, at csweet1@udayton.edu.

- A campus dialogue to further address dismantling white supremacy and racism will be held 1 to 3 p.m. April 16 in the Kennedy Union Ballroom. The dialogue will include caucuses that culminate in a campus wide community dialogue. For more information, contact Daria Graham, associate dean of students and executive director of multicultural affairs, at dgraham1@udayton.edu.

Passover Seder, Wednesday April 24th at 7 pm in the Adele Center McGinnis Room.

Passover is the Jewish holiday which commemorates the liberation of the Israelites from the bondage of slavery in Egypt, and the Seder is a special ritual dinner during which the story of Passover is told. It is normally held with family and friends on the first night of Passover, which this year falls during Easter break, so many of our Jewish students, faculty, and staff will likely get to celebrate at home on the traditional date. Space is limited, so please RSVP at http://tiny.cc/UDPassover before April 17th.

Summer Opportunity: Ozanam Center for Service Learning - Contracted Staff Application: Apply Here

Rooted in the mission of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul, the Ozanam Center for Service Learning fosters communities of compassion, understanding, and justice through the engagement of individuals in service, education, and reflection. Our programs seek to connect people from diverse backgrounds, engage participants in poverty and justice issues in Cincinnati, and grow a commitment to long-term service and systemic change.

What: Each summer, the Ozanam Center offers a series of urban-immersion style retreats that invite youth to experience first-hand the realities of communities in need. The retreats draw on Catholic Social Teaching and seek to help students grow in their faith and their commitment to service and social justice.

Your role: Summer staff supports and co-facilitates immersion experiences in partnership with the lead staff person. These roles involve leading students on outings in the community; driving an SVDP van; facilitating reflection, prayer, and informational sessions; and assisting with practical tasks (e.g., food preparation, set-up and clean-up). Both summer staff members have ample support from full-time Ozanam Center staff.

Commitment to Diversity and Inclusion: Social Justice Resource is currently in its 11th iteration. This campus resource showcases a wide variety of events during Spring 2019 term that align with the theme of social justice, and serves as a resource for all campus community members. Check out the many ways to get involved through this wonderful resource.
