

SHARE IN THE DISCOVERY AT STARS

Save the date for our fifth annual Spotlight on Technology, Arts, Research and Scholarship on Thursday, Sept. 18, to support the research and scholarly endeavors within the University of Dayton academic community.

STARS

Spotlight on Technology, Arts, Research and Scholarship

Sept. 18, 2014

8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Science Center auditorium (Room 114)

A reception will follow in the Science Center auditorium lobby.

Keynote speaker: Julie Thompson Klein, Ph.D.

Klein is a professor of English and humanities at Wayne State University. She also serves as the faculty fellow for interdisciplinary development in the division of research.

Carl R. Chen, Ph.D., Economics and Finance

Roger Crum, Ph.D., Art and Design

Matthew J. DeWitt, Ph.D., UDRI — Fuels Engineering Group

Joseph W. Haus, Ph.D., Electro-Optics

Keigo Hirakawa, Ph.D., Electrical and Computer Engineering

Christian Kiewitz, Ph.D., Management and Marketing

Pamela Laufer-Ukeles, J.D., Law

Michelle Pautz, Ph.D., Political Science

Amit Singh, Ph.D., Biology

Joel S. Warm, Ph.D., UDRI — Human Factors Group

STARS is sponsored by the office for research.

For more information, visit udayton.edu/research/STARS or facebook.com/UniversityofDaytonSTARS.