

Photography and Video Images

Any photographs or videos taken under the direction of the University marketing and communications office, or any other University-sponsored program, may be used in publicly disseminated promotional materials, such as news stories, University publications or the web. Your name will not be listed in the caption or accompanying text without your permission. If you prefer not to be photographed, simply inform the photographer at the time photos are taken.