

Center for Student Involvement

Greek Life

Overview

The Greek Life working group, a subgroup of the Center for Student Involvement, believes that well developed fraternity/sorority life professionals entering the workforce will have a wide range rather than siloed experiences within a Greek community. Serving as a Graduate Assistant in Greek Life for two years, the Graduate Assistant will experience two different supervisory styles, co-advise the three governing councils at the University of Dayton (IFC, NPHC, Panhellenic or CPC), help plan and implement several community wide programs, develop presentation and facilitation skills, and help craft their graduate experience to meet their professional goals. The Greek Life workgroup employs two graduate assistants.

YEAR ONE

Responsibilities:

- Attend weekly council and executive meetings of the Interfraternity Council (IFC).
- Advise the IFC chair positions.
- Co-advise the Greek Week committee and assist in facilitating Greek Week events.
- Advise the Greek Scholarship Chairs in coordinating and implementing Greek academic programs including, but not limited to, financial scholarship distribution, leadership conference programming, and an annual scholarship and awards banquet.
- Assist with the implementation of fraternity recruitment.
- Assist with the implementation of all IFC events.
- Assist in researching best practices for fraternities and sororities, implementing fraternity and sorority curriculum, reviewing the annual strategic plan, and updating the community on progress made.
- Advise and counsel individual students on issues related to their fraternity/sorority experience.
- Assist the Director and Assistant Director with leadership experiences, educational programming, and community-wide initiatives from all three values-based Greek councils, inclusive of the Interfraternity Council, National Pan-Hellenic Council, and the women's College Panhellenic Council
