Make your meetings more productive around the globe. Ready-Access brings reliable global reservationless conferencing to your fingertips. Get all the convenience of Ready-Access for local, regional, and global audio conference calls using Global “800” numbers. Whether your colleagues are in Europe, North America, Asia-Pacific, or Latin America, your easiest access to world class audio conferencing is Ready-Access.

IN BRIEF

- Global “800” numbers allow participants from key international business locations to use Ready-Access for local, regional, and global conferences.
- Chairpersons and participants can cost-effectively access a single conference from many international locations by dialing in on permanent access telephone numbers for their countries.
- Global “800” numbers include all conferencing and network charges bundled into a single per-minute rate for each country. All charges are usage based. There’s no set-up charge, network fee or monthly premium.
- In-country users will recognize the format of each access telephone number as a toll-free, or freephone, type of service such as the classic UK 0800 or U.S. 1.800 prefix.
- Cost-effective – Competitive rates include all bridging and toll-free/freephone access charges.
- Ease of use – Permanent Global “800” numbers to access local, regional, or global conference calls allowing you to conference without reservations regardless of your location.
- Common user experience – Globally standardized, Ready-Access offers all users access to the same features and online tools, wherever they are calling from.
- Other options for global access include international long distance dial-in and Chairperson dial-out (web and touch-tone based).
- Customer care support available 24x7, using touch-tone commands while conferencing or by dialing a toll-free/freephone customer care number.
