

Teaching Online at UD

Creating an Accessible Syllabus

Version 1.0 – April 14, 2009, updated January 26, 2015

Ryan C. Harris Learning Teaching Center
UDit – Curriculum Innovation and E-Learning

When creating a syllabus for your course, remember to use the following paragraphs of text (and headings) to help provide learning and accessibility support:

Support for Your Learning in This Class

The LTC's Office of Learning Resources (OLR) is a learning resource for all students at the University of Dayton. We offer a wide variety of services to assist you in achieving academic success at the University, including study skills classes and workshops, tutoring and consultations, disability screenings, and a web site with many resources (<http://learningservices.udayton.edu>). Please contact OLR at 937-229-2066 or visit our office on the ground floor of Roesch Library (LTC 023) if you would like to talk about how you could be a more effective learner.

Students with Disabilities

I would like us to discuss ways to ensure your full participation in this course. If you feel you need an accommodation based on the impact of a disability, please contact me privately to discuss your Self-Identification Form as provided by the LTC's Office of Learning Resources (OLR). It is important that you be registered with OLR and notify me of your eligibility for reasonable accommodations in a timely manner, and make special arrangements in case of an emergency building evacuation. For more information about disability services at the University of Dayton, please contact OLR at 937-229-2066, by email at disabilityservices@udayton.edu or stop by OLR in the LTC room 023.

Writing Support

The Write Place is a free service available to all UD students. The Write Place offers peer-to-peer writing support on any writing assignment and at any stage of the writing process. You can drop-in to the Write Place without making an appointment. The Write Place is located in Roesch Library room 502. Contact Christina Klimo, Write Place Coordinator at 937-229-2068 or klimochm@notes.udayton.edu if you have any questions. You can also visit the Office of Writing, Research, and New Media's website at <http://LTC.udayton.edu/writing>.